ESOCC 2015 Workshops provide an opportunity for participants to discuss specific topics in the Service-Oriented and Cloud Computing related domains. ESOCC 2015 Workshops are planned to be held September 15th, 2015.

Each workshop proposal will be reviewed by the Workshop chairs. Workshops should align with one or more of the topics of interest of the main ESOCC conference (<http://esocc2015.unime.it/call-for-papers/>). Proposals must consist of the following items:

- Name and acronym of the workshop
- Motivation: short (about 1 page) scientific justification of the proposed topic and scope, its significance and relevance to ESOCC, and the particular benefits of the workshop to the service-oriented and cloud computing communities
 - Names, affiliation and short (up to 10 lines) bio of the workshop organizers
 - Contact organizer
 - Desired/planned length of the workshop, (half day or full day)
 - Estimate of the audience size
 - Proposed format and agenda (for example, demo sessions, tutorials, etc.)
 - Potential invited speakers
 - Any special requirement the workshop may have
 - Procedures for selecting papers and participants
 - Plans for dissemination, if any (for example, special issues of journals)
 - Preliminary call for papers and link to the workshop website (if possible)
 - Information about previous editions (if applicable).

Important Dates:

Proposals are due by March 20th, 2015 by email to workshops.esocc2015@gmail.com.

Organizers will be notified by March 27th, 2015.

The workshop proposals will be reviewed and evaluated on the following criteria:

- Potential to advance state of the art in service-oriented and cloud computing, especially ability to break new ground
- Relevance to ESOCC
- Overlap of topics with other proposed workshops
- Past-successes of the workshop and association with previous ESOCC conferences
- Organizers' ability and experience to lead a successful workshop

All accepted workshops will be asked to provide a web page, call for papers, and, if applicable, a list of invited speakers. The workshop participants will be required to register for the workshop through the ESOCC 2015 main registration page.
